

burster drewes presents a series of exhibitions in New York featuring different artists from various art academies across Germany.

The exhibitions align perfectly with NADA's goals of promoting collaboration between artists and enhance public engagement with contemporary art.

Our curatorial project consists of four exhibitions in which artistic forms of expression are not only juxtaposed but also intentionally placed in relation to each other and interwoven. The dynamic dialogue between the artworks, characterized by diverse academic influences, stylistic approaches and unique perspectives, presents a multifaceted view of contemporary art.

The exhibition series invites visitors to explore both individual styles and collective movements – a snapshot of current artistic developments.
